Government Seek Light on Activities of Detectives.

BURKINSHAW BUSY

Former Secretary's Attorney is Grand Jury Witness.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3. -The government's determination to go to the bottom of the circumstances leading up to the mistrial of the Fall-Sinclair case was further evidenced today when Assistant District Attorney Neil Burkinshaw subpoenaed and their attorneys.

Seek Jury Tampering Evidence. These calls, it was said, are expec ed to throw some additional light on the activities of the sixteen Burns detectives who shadowed the night and day. Burkinshaw has sworn to his belief that the detectives were employed by Harry F. Sinclair, th millionaire defendant.

Mark B. Thompson, attorney for former secretary of interior Albert B. Fall, appeared this morning before the federal grand jury which is probing the government charges of jury tampering. Thompson was called to tell the jury what took place in a tele-phone conversation which had been traced between him and Dan Jackson, assistant attorney general.

The Fall lawyer and Jackson known to be life-long friends, bu there was nothing to show that the conversation had anything to do with the jury tampering charges.

Will Call Alleged "Contact" Man. Meanwhile, it was learned that Burkinshaw is going to attempt to force A. Mason Day, vice president of the Sinclair Exploration company. and alleged "contact man" between the Burns detectives and Sinclair, to lestify. Day previously has refused

AMERICAN LEGAL SYSTEM MUST BE REFORMED, CHIEF JUSTICE TAFT TELLS CRIME COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 .- The American legal system must be reformed immediately to "render new trials impossible except for real injustice" and to abolish the practice of selecting juries of weak intelligence. Chief Justice William Howard Taft, of the United States supreme court, declared here today in an address to the national crime commission.

Taft declared the present practices in criminal trials frequently led to a "defeat of justice."

The hundreds of delegates present took Taft's speech as a reference to the long drawn out litigation in the naval oil cases. Justice Frederick L. Siddons, who presided in the Fall-Sinclair trial, was the first to greet Taft as he left the platform. "You certainly have given us a message," Siddons told the chief Taft practically stressed the need for reform in the method of selecting juries.

"The method of selection ought not to be such hat counsel for the defendants, by exclusion of worthy citizens 'rom the panel, keep jurors of wak intelligence, of little experiene, and subject to emotions easily aroused," said Taft. "Exempticis from jury service ought t be cut down, and society ought to be able to cure a jury tha approaches the enough to learn from the judge what the law is and to weigh the evidence with reference to its violation. It is not an easy reform." Taft declared the "American people in many states have distributed the judges" and proposed legal reforms by which the courts would be given wider latitude in charging juries

"The chance of conviction of innocent persons by a jury of 12 men, of course, by judicial conduct and tyranny must be minimized by a fair review on appeal," Taft continued. "But the danger is not sufficiently great to require that the reins should be thrown on the back of the jurors to follow their own sweet will in their con-Taft further proposed legisla-

DO-NOT-MARRY BLINDFOLDED

FIND OUT "THE NAKED TRUTH"

"Before you marry any man, know his family, his health, his reputation, his antecedents, and do not take his word for it.'

See the Most Sensational Motion Picture in Years, "The Naked Truth"—and Know Why Many Marriages Are Failures

Blindfolded women take the vital step that is the greatest event in their lives. Blindfolded, as trusting as a little child, they started with him upon a "honeymoon" which in a few short weeks may turn them from a carefree happy girl into a gray-haired, sorrow stricken woman because they were ignorant of the vital facts of life.

The Naked Truth" is not a happy picture story, Rather it is a terrible story, thrillingly terrible with the terror that any girl must feel who finds that her love has led her into a state of dreadful bondage. But it carries a lesson, an insight into life, that every girl and every woman should learn for her own safety, and for posterity. See "The Naked Truth" so that you may know life and not have to pay for the knowledge, as thousands of women had to pay through sad experience.

"The Naked Truth" is different from any other picture you ever saw, although many a sad-faced woman could tell a similar tale if she only had the moral courage to bare her heart.

In addition to "The Naked Truth" the management will show exclusive special reels made only for women audiences it tells and shows everything. actual scenes, going into complete details. A thrilling story featuring Jack Mulhall, Helene Chadwick

VOTING IS TRYING

If a man fails to vote in the South American republic of Uruguay he may be fined or even thrown into fail. That makes a citizen take his citizen ship seriously. It's a sad slant on human intelligence that men have to men have the slightest idea of what life and living are all about, they will never let anything but death keep them from voting. For in the ballot lies their hope of governing themselves wisely. They can't gov rn themselves wisely unless they try. And voting means trying.

High School Booster Day

The East Liverpool High school football team, perhaps the strongest eleven that has ever represented the Blue and White will launch its final offensive for the Columbiana county scholastic championship with a Booster Day battle here Saturday with Balem, a formidable opponent. Dollar tickets for the game will be sold as a means of raising funds to wipe out an athletic fund leficit of approximately $800.

Fellow students, enthusiastic as a result of the Ceramic City school's victory last Saturday over the Bellaire High eleven, for three years champions of the Ohio Valley High School association and tasting defeat but twice in four years, are today making a city-wide canvass for financial support for the gridiron representatives. And if hard work counts, a record crowd will witness the week-end clash, in which East Livepool must register a victory in order to remain in the running for the title.

The athletic fund deficit is attributed to the unenclosed Pat terson Field, home lot of the Hurstmen. Sale of admission tickets at the field is hard hit because there is no fence to bar the way of the football fan who refuses to pay for his pleasure. In the main, most tickets for scholastic games are sold in the school buildings,

The solution of the problem is the erection of a fence around the West End field. Lack of funds, of course, prevents actual work, but it is mystifying why some steps looking toward an enclosed field have not been taken since the late Monroe Patterson deeded the ground to the board of education. Increased football receipts in one season should go a long way toward meeting the Other cities, facing the same question, would not have hesitated as long as East Liverpool. For instance, Salem, smaller than the Ceramic City, will submit to the school district electors next Tuesday a proposed $30,000 bond issue to be used in the erection of bleachers, etc., at Reilly Field, home grounds of the high school athletic teams. East Liverpool should get busy.

And, in the interim, let's boost High School Football Booster

Day.

Students

This may be, for some readers, a new slant on college life. A newspaper man who has been studying students in the various colleges quotes approvingly this statement from a professor:

"Most of the boys in college have to work, either during vacation or in the school term. If a boy is working his way through college, naturally he hasn't much money to waste on liquor or parties.

"Moreover, the system is thoroughly democratic. There is no prejudice against the fellow who earns his way. A boy who pays for his board by washing dishes may be received into the most exclusive fraternity. Another who waits on table turns up at the junior prom with the prettiest girl on the campus.

"Manners have changed. The youngsters are not strong for authority. They do mostly what they want to do. But the real measure of their student social life is not a hip flask or a cigaret. It is in the fundamental virtues they reveal-honesty, honor, generosity, a willingness to accept responsibility."

My three favorite cup cake recipes

AM sure you will find these cup cakes a dainty treat for

I make them with Crisco, the pure, snowy-white, vegetable shortening, and hardly anyone who eats them can tell they are made without expensive butter.

Cup Cakes

1/2 cup Crisco 2 teaspoons baking powder 3 eggs 134 cups flour

1 teaspoon vanilla Cream Crisco and sugar. Add beaten eggs and mix well. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt and add alter-nately with the milk to the first mixture. Add vanilla and beat thoroughly. Pour into greased muffin or cup cake pans and bake in quick oven (425 degrees F.) 15 to

Filled Cup Cakes

Follow recipe for Cup Cakes. When cool split in halves crosswise and remove por-tion of the cake. Fill center with stiffly whipped cream, flavored and sweetened. Put halves together and ice all over with Creamy Chocolate Frosting.

4 squares unsweetened chocolate 1½ cups powdered sugar Few grains salt

Boiled Frosting

134 cups sugar 2 egg whites 12 cup water 1 teaspoon vanilla

Cook sugar and water together, stirring until the sugar is dissolved. Boil without stirring until the syrup forms a soft ball when tested in cold water (238 degrees F.) Pour over the stiffly beaten egg whites and beat constantly until the mixture holds its shape. When cool add vanilla.

Filled Chocolate Cakes

2 eggs
36 cup milk
3 squares unsweetened chocolate
11/2 cups flour
21/2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt

Cream Crisco and sugar together. Add beaten eggs and mix well. Cook the milk and chocolate, cut in pieces, over a slow fire, stirring until thick. Cool. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt and add alternately with the chocolate to the first mixture. Add vanilla and beat thoroughly.

THE QUALITY GOES IN BEFORE THE NAME GOES ON

Why does not Zenith build a radio receiver to sell for less than $100.00?

The answer is that the Zenith standard of quality cannot be built into a receiver of lower price. Zenith will not put its name to a receiver that is not highly selective, powerful and faithful to the entire tone scale.

Performance comes first in Zenith - there is no compromise. The 6-tube set has six working tubes instead of five working tubes and one balancing tube Instead of three condensers the 6-tube set has four-the 8 and 10-tube sets have five and six condensers respectively.

Time and again, Zenith has published this unwavering challenge to the world of radio:

The challenge stands today as it has stood from the beginning-so long as Zenith makes radio it will be the best radio.

"Under Identical circumstances and conditions, and taking our various models in their proper grade, we challenge any make of radio receiver to equal or surpass Zenith performance in qualty or quantity of tone; selectivity; sensitivity; distance; ease of operation; precision of manufacture and general all around ap

CHAPTER XLIX.

On Saturday Millie broke her stubborn and sulky silence.

She got home from town at 1 o'clock and came straight through the house to the sunshiny kitchen where Sally tore.

"I don't know what she means. she fibbed so convincingly that sh fooled Sally completely, as she us ally did. "But I want to ask you favor, on my own account, Angel." She put her pretty head to one side and her voice was as velvety smoot as the slow drip-drip of honey pour ing from a spoon. "I want to as Davy here tonight for supper. Only I don't want to call him up myself want you to do it for me. Will you Sally shook her dark, glossy head with energy. "Not me!" said she, ungrammatically, but to the point. "i you want him here you ask him you self, old kid!'

Millie carried her plate and her glass to the sink and rinsed them out with cold water—a thing she never had been known to do for herself be-

Then she came back and put both of her arms around Sally's slender figure, in its checked gingham dress. "Please-pretty please with sugar on it," she pleaded, childishly. "Do call him up, Sally, just this once, nad I'll never ask you to do another thing for me as long as I live. I've tried to get him on the phone, myself, all week but he won't talk to me. I know he's at home sometimes when he sends word to me that he isn't."

Sally held up a pie, and began to trim off the uncooked crust around the edges of the pan.

"I should thing you'd have too much pride to run after a man, Millie," she said, her eyes on her work. "And anyway, if John Nye is jealous of him, why don't you drop him, now that you have such a good chance to do it?" Millie dropped her hands from Sally's shoulders and walked over to the screen door. Outside came the sound of water pattering on leaves, where Aunt Emily was sprinkling her vege-

"I don't want to drop him." she said after a minute or two. Not right now, anyway. I like him too muchand I always get John Nye back on my staff when I want him. Only I don't want him back for a while. Not until I get tired of Davy.'

Her voice was cool and hard, and Sally knew that she had thought this whole thing out and made up her mind just what to do.

"You mean," she said, "that when you get ready to settle down, you'll whistle John Nye back to you; in the meantime you're going to have your fling with Davy Davidson. That's what you mean, isn't it?"

Millie turned back from the door, d her head so that a bright ripple ran across ther shimmering

"That's exactly it," she answered. "I'm wild about Davy now — but I know I won't be very much longer. I'm never in love with a man for a long time, you know. And when I'm all over my case on him, I'll be perfectly willing to settle down for life with John Nye. He has everything that I want in this world-all the things that Davy Davidson could-n't give a girl. He's all show-off —

BEN HUR" NOW

General Wallace, Soldier and Statesman, Was Author.

"Ben-Hur," now on the screen at the American theatre, was the product of a distinguished Indianian, General Lew Wallace, equally noted as soldier, statesman and author. Begun in 1875 and finished in 1889, its more than 100,000 words were twice written by hand-the last great book antedating the typewriter era.

Tradition says that General Wallace conceived the idea of writing "Ben Hur" after a talk with "Bob" Iugersoll. "Is there a God?" asked Lew.
"I don't know; do you?" "Is there a future life?" again asked Wallace. "I don't know; do you?" again replied Ingersoll. "Was Christ divine?" persisted the general. "I don't know; do you?" shot back Bob. And then Col. Robert G. Ingersoll gave his friend a three-hour blast on this subject that made Wallace feel himself an igno

He went home and studied and finally decided to write the high theme and became neither skeptic nor indifferentist but a convicted believer.

After a year spent on the story of the Wise Men, there came to him the main story of Ben-Hur twixt the Birth and Death of Jesus. Under a wide spreading beech tree at Crawfords ville, Ind., the main part of "Ben Hur" was penned. The last book was written in a big adobe room of the governor's palace in Sante Fe, New Mexico. Here from 1878 to 1881 General Wallace ruled the territorials fo his employer, Uncle Sam.

"Improved My Skin in a Short Time!"

Realizing the problem of women generally in beautifying and protecting their skin, radiant Iris Gray. Paramount Junior Star of Wichita, Kan-sas, tells how Black and White Beau-Creations helped her solve that problem.

"Due to the large amount of cream and powder it is necessary for me to use in my stage and picture work,' says Miss Gray, "I found it necessary to purchase the various theatrical preparations. They made my skin dry and chapped. Then I began using Black and White Cold Cream and in a short time my skin returned to its former smoothness."
